

Please sponsor me!

I'm creating a ripple effect! From this little boy having access to clean and safe water, to whole villages being able to grow their own food, I'm supporting Aidlink's work in Africa!

Aidlink's collaboration with partners in Kenya, Uganda and Ghana has the powerful ripple effect of enabling local NGO's to improve their capacity, their communities and ultimately the lives of the rural poor. We support some of Africa's poorest and most isolated communities where access to water will transform every aspect of life – education, health, food security, and potential to thrive.

Watch your money grow... into sweet potatoes!

Your sponsorship money could help a school grow a kitchen garden so that children can have lunch.
